Three New Building Projects Are Planned

BWA Finances Ladies' Lounge

The Bryan Women's Auxiliary, organized in 1957, is engaged in the project of constructing an entirely new ladies' lounge and powder room on the main floor of the administration building adjoining the library. This major improvement to provide a much-needed new area is costing about $2,000 and is scheduled for completion by commencement. Other BWA projects have included renovation of the Octagon and chapel dorms for men and the lounge in the girls' dormitory. The Auxiliary is a service organization begun in 1957 and is open to all faculty women, faculty and student wives, and townswomen. Projects sponsored by the Auxiliary are paid for entirely out of the funds which they raise.

Advisory Committee Plans President's Home

The Advisory Committee to the Board of Trustees, now in its third year of operation, has voted to adopt as its 1960 project the raising of funds to construct a president's home. The project has been approved by the executive committee of the board, which has authorized the submitting of detailed plans of construction. At present the Committee has slightly over $2,000 in its building treasury and expects to devote its fall campaign for that purpose. C. P. Swafford, Dayton attorney and chairman of the Committee, hopes that a total of $25,000 will be raised.

Trustee to Construct "Bryan Village"

A new housing area for married students located on state highway 30 adjacent to the campus is expected to get under way this summer with the construction of six units. This area is being developed by Mrs. E. B. Arnold, a founder, longtime trustee and bene-

DR. WILLIAM KERR

Alumnus and Educator to Address 27th Annual Commencement Audiences

One of Bryan's early graduates, Dr. William F. Kerr '39, and an outstanding educator, Dr. Guy Snavely, will be the featured speakers for the baccalaureate and graduation convocations of the 27th annual commencement at Bryan.

To Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon

Dr. Kerr, pastor of the Hinson Memorial Baptist Church of Portland, Oregon, will preach the baccalaureate sermon for the 1960 graduating class on the evening of Sunday, June 5, in the Rhea Central High School Auditorium in Dayton.

In addition to being pastor of one of the outstanding churches of the Pacific Northwest, Dr. Kerr is professor of theology at Western Baptist Theological Seminary, an institution of the Conservative Baptist Association of America.

Dr. Kerr holds the B.D. from Grace Theological Seminary, Winona Lake,

Indiana, and the doctorate from Northern Baptist Seminary in Chicago. Prior to attending Bryan he attended Wheaton College, and his most recent studies were at Harvard toward the Ph.D. degree. Dr. Kerr is an author, lecturer, and an active member of a number of boards of Christian service.

To Receive Honorary Degree

In recognition of his achievements, Dr. Kerr's Alma Mater will confer on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at the commencement on Tuesday, June 7. He thus will become the recipient of the second honorary degree ever to be awarded by this institution. Dr. William Wonderly, of the class of '36, and director of translation for the American Bible Society, in all Latin America, received the first such degree at the commencement last June. At a joint alumni-trustee supper on

CLASS OF '60 JOINS ROSTER OF ALUMNI

The graduating class of 1960 is composed of 34 members representing 14 states and 2 foreign countries. Among the nine majors chosen by these graduates, history and elementary education claim the majority interest. In making plans for the future, nearly half of the grads anticipate entering the teaching field, ten others plan to go on to seminary or other graduate school, and the remaining members divide their intentions between pursuing service with a missionary organization, securing secular employment, or serving as homemaker.

These graduates bring to a total of 604 the number who have received degrees from Bryan during the 30 years of its operation. More than a thousand other students have matriculated at the college.

factor of the college. Frank Cowden, Mrs. Arnold's son-in-law, will direct the project. The architect's firm of Wilson and McCullough of Charlotte, N. C. is providing the plans for the village.

This construction will represent the first definite step in replacement of the Old Trailerville on the main campus, which is scheduled to be cleared away partly this summer and completely in another year.

The 15 pupils of the Bryan Kindergarten are shown above as they rehearse for their graduation in the chapel on May 6. This is the third successive year that the education department has maintained a kindergarten. Because of the demand for enrollment, L. Donald Hill, supervising director, indicates the possibility of running two kindergarten programs next year, one in the morning and one in the afternoon.

Faculty Additions and Advancements

Fred Donehoo '53 will join the Bryan faculty next fall as teacher of history and acting dean of men. Mr. Donehoo, who is a Ph.D. candidate in history at the University of Tennessee, replaces history professor Charles Moore, who will return to graduate school at the University of Michigan, and dean of men John Bartlett. Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett, members of the faculty for the past four years, will take a year's leave of absence to return to Columbus, Ohio, where Mr. Bartlett will enroll in the Ohio State University.

James Voight of Hardinsburg, Kentucky, succeeds Everett Boyce as athletic director and coach. Mr. Voight holds the B.S. degree from Austin Peay State College, Clarksville, Tenn., Mr. Boyce, who will receive his master's degree in history from the University of Tennessee this summer, will continue on the faculty as assistant professor in history and will direct the intramural athletic program and track and cross country. Mr. Voight will instruct in physical education and coach basketball and baseball.

Bryan faculty continuing graduate study this summer include Harold Franz, philosophy, Ph.D. candidate at Harvard; Lewis Warwick, associate professor of mathematics, Ph.D. candidate at New York University; L. Donald Hill, assistant professor of education; Ph.D. program at Peabody; Gerald L. Woughter, assistant professor of music, special work in music education at University of Tennessee; and Mrs.

Dr. Snavelly's record of educational service runs to some sixty-five lines in such a publication as Who's Who in America. He has been variously a college president, executive director of the Association of American Colleges, and a consultant on educational matters to numerous organizations. Associated for many years with the state of Alabama, Dr. Snavelly now lives primarily in Washington, D. C. He holds the bachelor of arts and the doctor of philosophy degrees from Johns Hopkins University and honorary degrees have been conferred upon him by twenty colleges.
